$7,000 donation

The Wildcats Charitable Foundation recently donated $7,000 to Human Trafficking Awareness Partnerships (HTAP). Its programs educate youth about the dangers of human trafficking through its art programs and other educational programs, including those held in school health classes, summer camps, after-school programs and community events.

Human trafficking is a growing problem in Florida, especially among children between the ages of 11 and 15. Through HTAP's programs, children are taught the signs of trafficking and the techniques used by traffickers to lure children away from their families and loved ones.

"The Wildcats Charitable Foundation understands how important it is to support programs to teach kids how to protect themselves from the dangers of trafficking and recognizes the value of the work Human Trafficking Awareness Partnerships does in summer camps, afterschool programs and now in the Lee County Schools," said Nola Theiss, Executive Director of HTAP.
